Harry Stevanus who was cook for the officers mess of Company C Somerset had a leg amputated and is wounded in the left arm, according to a letter written by his French nurse, Jane Darrony to his wife who is residing with G. W. Collins and family of Meyersdale during the war. The letter follows:
Dear Madam,
I ask you to excuse my English because I write this language with much difficulties. I wish to give you some news from your husband. He is very sad to not write to you, but it is impossible for him because his arm is hurt, but he says to me to give you many loves from himself. His health is not so badly than the first days. His temperature is down. His poor leg is always bad and I don't know if you had learned. We were obliged to cut it—it was necessary because it was too spoiled to keep it. Don't be so sorry with that, because your husband will never return to the front now, and when he will be cured he will be able to go to Pennsylvania and to live again with you.
We try to nurse him the better we can and I hope you are not too anxious about him.

AT DEATH'S DOOR

I was talking with my neighbor Mr. Webb, the other day regarding the great trouble his stomach had given him. He said he suffered 7 or 8 years and had been almost at death's door a number of times from acute indigestion and bloating of gas, which seemed to shut off his heart action. He said he wouldn't have lived much longer if he hadn't taken Ma's Wonderful Remedy when he did which made a well man of him. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrh mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. PRESIDENT'S CRITIC A CADDY

Eleven Year Old Boy Says Chief Executive Has Three Quarters Swing —Plays Fairly.

"The president is a fair golfer. He's got a three-quarters swing. He'd play better if his swing was a little fuller. He should not come back so fast on the back swing." Perhaps the only critic of America's chief executive who dares to openly voice his opinion, Joe Dineen, KEEF HANDING IT TO THEM.

Following the example of General Pershing in his swift, overwhelming attack on the St. Mihiel salient, President Wilson has dealt an equally quick and staggering blow to the Hun peace offensive when, in reply to the Austro-Hungarian plea for a secret,

"non-binding" discussion of peace terms, the President said:

"The government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the imperial Austro-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace and can, and will, entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

"That's the way to hand it to them!"

is the form of approval public expression assumed when the news arrived in this country of the magnificent feat accomplished by Pershing's fighters

When the doughboys hear how quickly we have countered the talk-fest proposition they too will enthusiastically repeat, "That's the way to hand it to them!"

And we must keep on handing it to the Hun, not alone on the battlelines, but in the workshops, mines and industries, or wherever the work of our hands will help to ensure the certain and early accomplishment of our purpose as comprehended in the slogan:

"On to Berlin! Get the Kaiser!

Then Peace!"

OUR HONOR ROLL.

Parents and other war relatives and friends of Connelville boys who have entered the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, will have an appreciation of the honor that will come to their sons and friends through the erection of a public Honor Roll. This appreciation ought to be second only to that the boys will themselves have of this mark of respect their home community will pay them. Such being true there should be the utmost willingness to cooperate with the committee which has charge of the work of providing the roll. Just now the best form this cooperation can take is to assist in collecting the necessary information to form the roll.

Rev. Burgess has expressed to the friends of the boys his desire for assistance which they can give.

To do this has been made easy, requiring merely that the coupon, printed on another page of The Courier, be filled out with the information desired, and mailed to Rev. Burgess.

Prompt action is very much as a comparatively short time remains within which to prepare the Honor Roll for dedication. Furthermore it is desired to have the roll as nearly complete as possible when the order is given to prepare the names for their place on the roll.

The memorial that is to be erected is not intended to be a permanent one.

At this time it could not be made to include the names of all the young men who will have a part in the greatest war in history. In addition to the host of the city's loyal and patriotic sons who have already answered the country's call, there will be scores of others to follow in their footsteps. No man, the war is over and the military history of every boy who went out from Connelville has been completed, the conspicuous service each may have rendered, the casualties suffered and other facts concerning each soldier in the Army of Civilization recorded, can the tribute of a grateful community be given proper permanent form.

Then with as great a pride in the things these boys have done as is felt in the expression of their willingness to do to the utmost all that they can to uphold our country's honor, will the people of the city erect a memorial of such a character as will fittingly give expression of the appreciation that will be felt for those who have borne well their part in the great struggle. Until such time arrives we should give still more proof than we have already given of the hold these boys have on our hearts. The Honor Roll will be one form in which we can give this proof.

Every boy in every branch of the military or naval service is entitled to a place on this roll. It will be the fault of his friends if his name does not appear there. Do not deny him the honor through your own failure to give the information the committee requires. Better attend to this simple duty immediately.

When Uncle Sam came to the battlefield, he was met by the Hun. The peace offensive was a typical Hun

Tomorrow Ruth Clifford will be starred in "Fires of Youth." Thursday June Elvidge, supported by Frank Mayer, John Hines and Midge Evans, will be seen in "The Power and the Glory," a World feature. Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal. "What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain that makes any corn Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed! An earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and standing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-remover, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Outing makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating astringents or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "gone" with the sun rises. "Gets-It" the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifling sum at drug stores. Sold by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

NEXT WORLD SERIES WILL BE IN FRANCE

Organizer John T. Powers Is Sponsor for Bald Statement.

Has Well-Detailed Intention of Grid-Ironing That Fair Land With Leagues of Gradually Increasing Importance.

Organized baseball is not killed; it merely is transferred to "somewhere in France" for the duration of the war.

Such is the expressed opinion of John Thomas Powers, organizer and first president of the late Federal league, who is going to France with the well-detailed intention of grid-ironing that fair land with baseball leagues of gradually increasing importance, from the sand lot teams which practice in No Man's Land up to the real big league champions, which will settle the supremacy on diamonds in the south of France next winter.

"The next world's championship baseball series will be decided 'somewhere in France,'" says Powers, and while he does not go so far as to predict the exact leagues which will clash in this classic so far from its native heath, he concedes it may lie between the Y. M. C. A. league leader and the K. of C. league topper. Inasmuch as he has a long record of organizing baseball leagues, from interchurch up to nation-wide organizations, Powers' prediction is well worth considering, particularly as he adds convincing facts.

"My scheme is to have a league in every regiment," explained Powers. "These can be organized by the Y. M. C. A. physical director and by elimination produce their champion teams. The regimental champions will have contests for the division championship and the division champions will fight for the corps championship. Eventually will come the series for the championship of the army, which will be the same as the world's championship if baseball is shut down in this country. All the best young players affected by the war department ruling will be in the army.

"With all the best talent there and good new talent coming to the surface we ought to have some games. This carrying real baseball to the soldiers isn't just a time-killer, but a necessary measure to keep up the morale of our boys over there."

league players now in the army, under the management of "Hank" Gowdy. Johnny Evers, who recently arrived in Paris, has come to an agreement on the subject with Gowdy. "The games will be played for the entertainment of the American wounded."

A Near Employee.
"There been on government work before?" asked the manager of the job-seeker.

"Very nearly, sir," was the reply.

"What do you mean by very nearly?"

"Well, you see, sir, there wasn't quite enough evidence to convict me."

FRENCH ARMY ADOPTS BASEBALL FOR TRAINING WITH EVERS AS INSTRUCTOR

WATCHING A GAME IN FRANCE—EVERS IN INSERT.

Baseball playing is to become a regular part of the physical training of the French army as a result of reports made by French officers on what they had seen of the effects of baseball on the American army. The reports led the ministry of war to issue an order recommending the adoption of baseball in the French army.

General Vidal sent Capt. G. Forbes, an American officer attached to his staff, to the headquarters of the Knights of Columbus with a request that John Evers, the former American baseball star, be sent to his corps to instruct the soldiers in the American national game. The request was granted and Evers will go to the French camps with two assistants and equipment provided by the Knights of Columbus.

He will remain a fortnight, after which his assistants will continue the instruction.

HURLER CY SEYMOUR WORKS IN SHIPYARD

Former Star of National League Tells of His Experience.

Willing Hereafter to Consider Playing Baseball as Summer Vacation—Pulled 11,234,452 Nuts Tight in One Day.

Since all our baseball players between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one are to go to work, we take delight in presenting the experience of Cy Seymour, former Giant, former star of the big league and former leading hitter of baseball, written Hugh S. Fullerton in an exchange. Cy has been working in a shipyard. Some of the players imagine that working in a shipyard is a bed of roses scented with myrrh. Listen to Cy:

"Say, I never worked a day in my life. They told me it was soft. Soft? Say, I've lived through a hundred spring training trips. I have been sore and worked it out. But not like this. The first three days I felt more hump-backed than any mascot we ever had. I ached like a bone bruise from head to foot.

"Can you imagine a ball player getting up at 5:30, riding a dozen miles and then being handed a monkey wrench? They put me to work tightening up nuts that no one else was strong enough to tighten. I pulled 11,234,452 nuts tight in one day. That night I looked like one of Mordred Brown's curves, bent right in the middle.

"I never had worked a day in my life. I was strong enough and willing enough, but I went through nine spring training seasons in one week. I'm no quitter, I'll stick to it; but a fellow isn't much good when he is bent double. But condition, man, I used to think I was in condition when I could run the bases without getting winded. Now I can run half a day at top speed and never feel it. I lost more weight in the first 24 hours in the shipyard than I did in a dozen years playing baseball. Hereafter I'll consider playing baseball a summer vacation. Maybe it is just as hard for a shipbuilder to play baseball as it is for a baseball player to build ships, but I doubt it. Anyhow, every nut in baseball ought to pull one on a ship, which would help considerably.

"If these fellows think they are dodging something by coming into the shipyards I'm due for a big laugh."

Full Measure.

Bobby: "Uncle, couldn't a fellow have a nice Sunday dinner if he was as hungry as me and roasty as you?"

The letter received by Mr. Overton from one of his son's associates said: "On the morning of July 19 we went over the top. Johnny Overton was killed. I helped bury Overton in the field."

Overton was one of the best long-distance runners ever developed at Yale university and was captain of the track team. While a student at the university Overton was twice winner of the intercollegiate cross country championship, defeating a big field of competitors in 1915 and again the following year.

WHEN CHANCE GOT REAL MAD

Usually Stuttered Around at Fearful Rate and Couldn't Think of Anything to Say.

Frank Chance was a fluent and entertaining talker and well informed on many subjects, in ordinary conversation, but when he would get mad on the ball field he usually stuttered around at a fearful rate and could not think of anything to say at all when boiling. Once when manager of the Cubs Frank had a run in with Hank O'Day over some decision or other. Chance was frothing at the mouth. He tried to talk, but couldn't co-ordinate his thoughts and his tongue.

Finally in desperation the Cub's leader walked up to O'Day and blurted out:

"You big bum. Why don't you go and clean your dirty teeth?"

O'Day was furious for a minute, then the remark struck him as funny and he had to turn his back to keep from showing his teeth, perfectly clean, in a smile.

Among the new Columbia October Records is a small group which the Columbia Dealer will tell you is so good so up-to-the-minute, that it simply couldn't be held up until the rest came along, but was put on sale in advance.

Small wonder, for among this advance group is one of the smartest Van and Schenck records we have heard in many a long moon. As everybody knows, these versatile vaudeville headliners are at their tip-top best in character stuff—and here is character singing of the highest order, a Van and Schenck. One side is "My Maria"—a bit of mummy hair as to dialect; the other, "In the Good Old Irish Way"—which is fresh from Erin, with the smell of peat smoke and the glint of laughing gray eyes tucked away in the rollicking melody. Only Van and Schenck can make such records as this.

Photograph fans are always looking for something a bit out of the ordinary to play for their friends; something not quite in the every-day run of records. Columbia offers it in the October Advance Records. It is a wonderful Serenata White, played by the famous Royal Serenata Tambourina Orchestra, the players who have swept New York off its musical feet and who are engaged for the summer to play nightly on the Waldorf Roof. Here is melody with the wild, free swing of the Balkans in it; the strain of melancholy that shivers in every baritone's heart, and the most graceful, smooth-flowing of waltz tempo. Hear it once, you'll never rest until you've danced again and again to its beautiful strains.

Two other corking good dance records in the Advance Group of October Records are Wilbur Sweetman's Original Jazz Band playing "Goodbye, Alexander" and "Dark-toned Struts a Ball," and a beautiful medley of one-step and waltzes from the great New York light opera successes, "Maytime" and "The Rainbow Girl."

Hardy-gurdy days! Great days of childhood! Whenever and wherever you hear a hardy-gurdy now it takes us back to those golden afternoons in midsummer when we danced about the pavement to the soulful strains of the street piano. Here is a record made by the kind of all hardy-gurdy, operated by the prince of all street piano players—Signor Hurdigardi himself. And, as is right and fit and proper, it is of the very old childhood songs we used to dance to—"Daisy Doll," "Sweet Sixteen," "On the Banks of the Wabash," and others just as full of fond recollections.

WORTH AS MUCH AS TWO WEEKS HARD TRAINING

Tanlac Quickly and Surely Put H. Mason, Puglist, in Pink of Condition.

"Tanlac is worth almost as much to me as a two weeks' hard training," said H. Mason, athlete and puglist, of 1306 State Street, Erie, Pa.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and a catarrhal affection, the latter having been brought about by my contracting cold after a ten-round bout at the Harlem Athletic Club last Thanksgiving afternoon.

"It seemed as though my nutrition was retarded and my strength was leaving me rapidly.

"I would awaken at night from cold sweats.

"I could not eat with any satisfaction, and as a consequence my stomach went completely back on me.

"I bought some of this new medicine, Tanlac, because a friend told me about it, and because he recommended it to me so highly.

"Since using Tanlac my stomach has resumed its normal condition. I eat fine and sleep well. I am as strong as ever; in fact, I feel like I am fit for the battle of my life.

"This Tanlac is certainly a great strength giver. It beats anything I have ever seen. I am going to keep the medicine around handy to take in the future. You certainly can bet on that."

Tanlac is now sold in Connelville exclusively by the Connelville Drug Co., Baughley's Pharmacy, and F. H. Harmering, where the premier preparation can be had.—Adv.

TELLS HOW TO GET BACK OLD TIME AMBITION

Discoverer instructs druggists everywhere not to take a cent of anyone's money unless Bio-feren doubles energy, vigor and nerve force in two weeks.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Any man or woman who finds that they are going backward, are not as strong as they used to be, have lost confidence in their ability to accomplish things, are nervous and run down should take two Bio-feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime.

No matter what excesses, worry, overwork—too much tobacco or alcohol—have weakened your body and wrecked your nerves, any druggist anywhere is authorized to refund your money on request if Bio-feren, the mighty upbuilder of blood, muscle and brain does not do just what is claimed for it.

There's no use suffering from the awful agony of kidney back-ache. Don't wait till it "basses off." It only comes back. Find the cause and stop it. SCOTSDALE WOMEN AND GIRLS TAKE UP WORK MEN LAY DOWN

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 17.—While Pittsburgh is opening an employment bureau so that women may find work to do to take the place of men who were called to the front, Scottdale does not need such a bureau. Scottdale women are to be found in almost every line of work. Miss Rose Wagner has enlisted with the Red Cross as a nurse, and will go overseas. Miss Nellie Reed, graduated from the Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C., has enlisted with the Red Cross and will go overseas if necessary. Miss Anna Bates is a traveling saleslady for a large New York firm, and has made good in this kind of work. Scottdale girls are finding work in Washington, D. C. Miss Lena Cuthbert is employed in the Bureau of Labor and has just returned from a tour where she with eleven others computed the cost of living of the men employed in making ships for Uncle Sam in the various parts of the United States. Miss Bess Cuthbert is advertising manager for J. H. Garfield & Company, Washington, D. C. Miss Jessie Reed and Miss Olive Rhodes are the two latest Scottdale girls to join those who are helping out in the need for stenographers during these war times at Washington, D. C.

Girls and women have taken men's places in the pipe mill offices, in the American Sheet & Tin Plate mill offices, and are filling in various places at the Brick offices in the blue print room, and everywhere a woman can be placed. Even the office boy has given his place up to the office girl, who greeted the newcomer and the visitor with a smile and the most courteous treatment. Girls at the car shops are employed at manual labor and a girl has gone into the chemist's department at the local laboratory.

Mrs. Anna Wooster, who for several years has been training officer of the local public schools, has shown that a woman is just as capable in this as a man.

At the opening of the public schools it was thought that they would be able to have a male teacher in the manual training department but when it was found that he must go to the army, Mrs. Florence Sherrick, Ma. L., who had been elected art teacher, was transferred to this department and has made a success of it. Mrs. Byron D. Bailey is assistant manager of one of Scottdale's movie theatres. Miss Charlotte Loucks Kelly has enlisted in the Red Cross as a reconstruction side and leaves for Detroit, Mich., for school today. Mrs. Evelyn Hess Allen, who has been at the hostess house, Peoria, Ill., has returned and will take up some other kind of war work.

These are just a few of the Scottdale women in war work, the local banks filling up their line of clerks from some of the best business talent to be found in local women.

ROBERT AND EMMETT ADDIS, VANDERBILT, WRITE HOME.

Writing to his mother, Mrs. Samuel Addis of Vanderbilt, Emmett Addis of Company A, 321st Field Artillery, states that he is in fine health and is growing to like France better.
The letter states:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am still O. K. It is Wednesday, July 3, and I wonder what you are preparing for the Fourth of July.
We are going to have all kinds of games. I am growing to like France better, but I would never stay over-here. I will take the good old United States for mine. I am living in hopes that I will return sooner or later.
Everything is so different over here.
"Mother, why don't you write often? I would like to see you all at home. Is Bob (the writer's brother) still at Camp Lee? Saw Harry Kesler the other day and he is still the same old 'Speak'. Have all of the boys from around home left yet?
I am getting a little homesick to hear from home."

In a later letter he writes that he spent the Fourth of July around the barracks, going on guard duty on the night of the Fourth. He states that they had a good dinner, and there was lots of dancing around, but he had some work to do and didn't go anywhere, but felt just as good as if he had run around. "I am happy, living in hopes of returning to the United States soon," the young soldier writes.

Robert H. Addis, also a son of Mrs.
Samuel Addis, writes several interesting letters to his mother. A part of one of the letters is as follows:

"I am in the best of health, and like the country very well. Do you ever hear from Emmett? I have not seen him since I came over but hope to run across him soon. I am very well satisfied with our location. Our workman is stationed about a mile and half from us. He also likes the place. I am sending you a couple of handkerchiefs from France.
They are very pretty. I think Clarence Durbin and some of the boys are about 20 miles from me. I may run across them some day. I had a few postcard pictures taken since I arrived here and am sending them to you. You can distribute them among the family." Addis is attached to Battery F, 315th Field Artillery.

MT. PLEASANT, Sept. 17.—A com-

Annual Fur Sale

Begins Promptly Tuesday Morning Will Continue All Week

GOOD FURS are scarce! Fur workmen are scarcer! This early season sale has been brought about only by foresight on our part in anticipating the difficulties which have arisen in the manufacture of Furs. We had the capital and we had the courage to go ahead and use it. Months ago we went into the fur markets and purchased the very best we could procure at prices which are much less than we would have to pay now. We advise you to buy during this sale. Later prices will be higher and Furs still scarcer.

Prices Lowest of the Year With Savings of About ONE FOURTH

And at the present rate of advance, they soon represent savings of one half on the actual value of the Furs you buy now. We unhesitatingly endorse the quality of every piece of fur included in this sale. With our reputation as reliable furriers we could not afford to sell any other kind. All purchases may be stored for future delivery.

Are in Same Battery.

Corporal Charles ("Chuck") Ward, a St. Louis boy and former infielder for Alexander and Ward are members of the same battery, Three Hundred and Forty-second artillery.

Since leaving the United States Ward said none of the boys in the battery, many of whom were former major leaguers, received any word of the pennant scramble. Night after night, Ward concluded, the former ball players, while on duty, tell of their experiences while playing baseball in the
